FIRE LOSS IN CHICAGO IS $10,000,000

Sixteen Story Fireproof Building Is Consumed

GALE OF FLAME

Starting at Midnight Famous District Is Seething Inferno

CHICAGO, March 15.—The sixteen story Burlington "fireproof skyscraper" was left a shell of concrete, stone and steel by fire today.

Damage to the building is estimated at $1,500,000.

The great two and one half million dollar structure, which was completed in December, 1912, was completely wrecked from the fifth to the top floors. Many valuable documents and records of the railroad were destroyed.

The fire broke out on the fifth floor after an explosion in the Austin building. The blaze spread rapidly upward and cut its way through the roof within an hour.

"The San Francisco fire proved that fireproof buildings are not fireproof and that explains why the Burlington building was nearly destroyed," Fire Attorney High stated today after inspecting the ruins.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Fire early today made a seething inferno of an entire block near Chicago's "loop" district and caused a loss of $10,000,000.

One fireman was killed and many injured by debris that crashed to the streets when the walls of office buildings crumbled

The blaze started at 1 a. m. in the candy shop of H. F. Schiff and company. Frank Corsey, 30, discharged employe of the company was questioned by the fire marshal.

Fanned by a high wind, the flames spread over the block and consumed the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy skyscraper and six other office buildings. Twenty structures were destroyed.

Dawn saw the fire fought by the city's entire fire equipment. One hundred thousand persons came from all over Chicago to witness the blaze seen in districts ten miles away. Heroic work saved business blocks. One hundred fires, started by sparks, were promptly extinguished.

Gold Cost Under Guard.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Private guards were thrown about homes on Chicago's "Gold Coast" today following a bomb explosion which partially destroyed the home of Charles J. Agnew, 21st ward alderman.

Agnew was addressing a political meeting at the time of the blast at midnight. Members of his family were shaken but not injured. No motive for the bombing is known to him, Agnew stated.

VALLEY VISITING DAY PLANNED BY C. OF C.

Secretary Rhoades and Board of Directors Discuss Subject

Plans for a visiting day among the towns of the valley by members of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors were discussed yesterday at the meeting of the directors. Secretary J. M. Rhoades said that he thought such a trip would be of mutual benefit to the members of the Chamber of Commerce and the cities visited by creating a closer bond of friendliness and co-operation.

The plan as advanced by Mr. Rhoades is this: As many members of the board of directors and members as can do it take one entire day and with their automobiles decorated to boost Glendale and advertise the city, travel through the valley, stopping for a short time in Tujunga, Sunland, Eagle Rock and the other towns.

No definite plan or program for the trip has been worked out as the proposition was offered at the meeting yesterday for the approval of the directors and their permission to go ahead and work out the details of the trip.

NEW YORK, March 15.—To escape punishment for "playing hookey" Charlie Berger, 12, cut his clothes to ribbons and bumped his head, later telling the police he had been held up by bandits.

BANDITS MAKE HAUL.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 15. Three armed bandits today held up the paymaster of Kellogg, Spencer and Sons here and escaped with $9000.

Avoidance of Many Accidents Discussed by James W. Foley

What law, rule, mandate, ordinance or regulation will prevent a driver from deliberately doing that which prudence, good sense and reasonable regard for life and safety says he should not do? This question James W. Foley asks in "The Listening Post" tonight, in the course of a discussion on the avoidance of accidents.

Dr. Frank Crane says that in the court of American public opinion the case of France should at least be clearly stated. He takes the occasion to set forth the facts as he sees them.

In the comment of the day's news a Chicago woman is quoted as saying that this is the age of social betterment and that women will stand totgether for better opportunities for every child, higher ideals of womanhood and motherhood, better health, education, recreation and spiritual welfare.

An editorial entitled "The Bar Investigates" is worthy your careful reading this evening. It may set you to thinking. It tells you that increase in crime is appalling in this country but no similar increase is noted in other lands.

HOME VISITATION PROPOSED FOR GLENDALE

J. L. Dunham of International Sunday School Assn. Is Here

Representing the Los Angeles County, Southern California State and International Sunday School associations and planning for a week of non-sectarian home visitation in Glendale among the people of the city J. S. Durham asked the Chamber of Commerce directors today for permission to establish his headquarters in the chamber of commerce during the time he is here preparing for the visitation week and until the campaign is ended. This permission was granted.

According to Mr. Duram the plan of the association of which he is a representative, is non-sectarian, and the home visitation is done under the supervision of a committee made up of members of the various churches and beliefs in the city. The committee will, during the time of the campaign, visit every home in the city and urge that the people attend church. If the people interviewed are members of a church they will be urged to attend the church with which they are affiliated. If they are not members they will be requested to attended services at some church. None will be recommended, it is understood.

Mr. Durham stated that while the primary motive of the visitation would be religious an attempt would also be made to gain a record of church preference. He stated that at present his organization was carrying on such a campaign in Pomona and La Verne. When the campaigns in the above named towns are completed the campaign will be started here.

The ministers of Glendale and heads of the various religious organizations have been interviewed by Mr. Durham, he intimated, and all were in favor of the plan and willing to cooperate in the work.

SCHOOL SURVEY COMMITTEE MEETS

Plan Formation of Physical View of System Tonight

The newly appointed school survey committee of the chamber of commerce will meet tonight in the headquarters of the chamber at 7:30 o'clock. At this meeting the committee will begin the formation of a physical survey of the school system of Glendale, after which the matter will be reported to the chamber at the earliest possible moment.

This committee will have complete charge of the chamber's activities in the coming high school bond election, when the question of voting bonds to the extent of $600,000 will be decided. The chamber of commerce, according to Secretary Rhoades, is enthusiastically in favor of voting these bonds and will do all it can to put the issue over.

The school committee consists of S. S. Gilhuly, J. R. Grey, W. E. Hewitt, Dr. W. C. Mabry, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, L. T Rowley, Dr Jessie A. Russell, D. W. Widdows and Dr. C. W. Young.

BENEFIT FOR LEGION AT THE GLENDALE

Manager Howe Donates Ticket Sales to Ex-Service Men

THREE DAYS' SHOW

"I Accuse" to Be Given for Building Fund of Local Post

For three days, William A. Howe, lessee and manager of the Glendale theatre, will turn that show house over to the American Legion of this city. Fifty per cent of all the money derived from the sale of tickets by the American Legion boys will go to swell the building fund of the American Legion. For the past day or two the Legion boys have been out in force and they promise to be on the job until the theatre has been completely filled on Saturday night.

Although there will be no advance in prices for these three nights Manager Howe is preparing one of the finest programs that has ever been seen in Glendale. He is going to show the people of Glendale that he is a booster for the American Legion and that he is willing to do everything he can to help that organization. It was on account of the fact that he realized these boys were worthy of encouragement that he went to them and volunteered to turn his play house over to them for the three nights.

The principal attraction of this 3-night show will be the photoplay called "I Accuse." This play was written by a French writer and was produced in France. Wherever shown this picture has proven a tremendous sensation. In fact, it has simply taken the country by storm and it is one of the principal topics of discussion in the cities where shown.

The story reveals Edith, the woman of tragedy, married to Francis, whose love is a mixture of tenderness and coarseness. John, poet and visionary, but by no means a weak type, also loving Edith and dreaming of a world peace that should come unto the universe. The war comes. Francis and John both enter the service. Edith is taken captive by the enemy. John is invalided home and

PUBLIC INVITED TO VIEW DRAMA CLASS PLAYS

High School Class to Give Three Plays Thursday Evening

Three one-act plays will be presented by the senior dramatics class of the high school in the school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. The price is 50 cents and the tickets may be secured at the school any day this week at noon.

The first play, "Neighbors," by Zona Gale, is a very clever small town comedy in which Peter, a shy, awkward country lad, is in love with Inez. When the play opens the characters are completely absorbed in their own troubles, but on hearing that a little boy is coming to live with one of their neighbors, a poor widow, they forget themselves in helping her. "Peter" is played by Fred Terzo, who will make his first appearance before the footlights. Although he has starred continually in football. In the role of Mis' Trol, Mary Florence Pate, who took the part of a blind Chinese boy in "The Sweetmeat Game," will be able to show her versatility.

The second play, 'Hearts to Mend," by Harry A. Overstreed, is a sequel to the Pierrette and Pierrott play given last year. Doris Packer, a very gifted reader, will take the part of Pierrette, the artist's wife, while that of Pierrott will be taken by William Justama. Billy, as he is called by all of his friends, is a playwright, one of his plays even having been presented before the Drama League of California.

"Sham," the last play, is by Frank Tompkins. It is very unusual in that the Thief, taken by Paul Hutchinson, lectures the householder and his wife on their life.

A very good musical program will be given by the high school orchestra.

THE WEATHER

Southern California: Tonight and Thursday, unsettled with showers west portion.

4200 Net Circulation

The Glendale Press is proud today to print in its columns an affidavit showing its net paid daily circulation has reached 4200.

It means to us that 4200 families are regular readers of the Glendale Press.

It means 4200 families are watching us and have given to us their silent approval of our policy.

That our policy of centralization of Glendalian attention upon Glendale and Glendale institutions, the churches and their spiritual offerings, upon the schools and their development is approved—and that 4200 families are following where we are leading.

It is a great responsibility. Forty-two hundred families in a city whose population totals approximately 25,000 means more than a majority of those who are permanently interested in Glendale—read the Glendale Press.

This is easily proven since the normal family contains five persons, so that of the total numerical population, on this basis, the Glendale Press represents now 21,000 people, the purchasing power of which it is endeavoring to direct into local stores.

When the Glendale Press policy becomes the policy of all its readers, then we shall indeed feel elated at the abounding prosperity of our home folks.

Proud of the stupendous fact that the Glendale Press has been chosen as the spokesman of the citizens of the city, we shall enter the second year of service to our city with light hearts and willing hands.

WE THANK YOU.

EXPLANATION OF GARDENA CROSSING

City Manager Reeves Tells Designation of New Traffic Road

There seems to be some question in the minds of some of the motorists as to why the city created the new automobile crossing on Brand boulevard at Gardena avenue, and there are some who question the wisdom of the city in this matter. City Manager Reeves explained today that this action was taken in order that the congestion at San Fernando road and Brand boulevard might be relieved.

The following letter, objecting to the crossing being established at Gardena and enumerating the reasons therefore, has been received by City Manager Reeves from W. S. Flaws of 1445 Lake Shore avenue, Los Angeles:

"May I call your attention to the new traffic rule you have recently put into effect which requires all northbound traffic on Glendale boulevard to cross over the Pacific Electric tracks about one-half block south of San Fernando road.

"I do not believe the Pacific Electric has as yet installed proper warning signals at this new crossing, which makes it rather unsafe for antomobile traffic.

"During my trip from Los Angeles to Burbank yesterday afternoon I made this crossing just south of the San Fernando boulevard, then proceeded north about one-half block, then turned west on the boulevard, crossing the tracks again. I observed that almost one-half of the automobile traffic here turns west on San Fernando boulevard. This new rule adds two more dangerous grade crossings to all traffic moving north and west on Glendale and San Fernando boulevards.

"May I suggest that this new rule be changed by extending the cross-over point to San Fernando boulevard on all north-bound traffic, thereby eliminating these two additional grade crossings for traffic moving north on Glendale boulevard and turning west on San Fernando boulevard? I realize this change would add congestion at the intersection of San Fernando and Glendale boulevards but I believe the change is justified from a safety standpoint."

City Manager Reeves reply to this communication was as follows:

"Replying to your favor of March 13 regarding the new crossing at Gardena avenue, I would state that our purpose in making use of this crossing was to try to reduce the congestion at the corner of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road,

HIGH TRUSTEES TALK OF PROBLEMS

Improvement Petition Relative to New Site Rejected Temporarily

All members of the board of high school trustees were present Tuesday evening and several items of business were transacted, but the greater part of the session was devoted to general discussion of school problems.

Frank E. Abbott was elected night watchman.

Mr. Leggett brought a petition for signatures relative to improvement of the proposed new street east of the high school site, but the board refused to sign it until it had received deeds to the property, which are still in escrow.

The house committee was instructed to go to the office of the board of supervisors March 27, when bids for the purchase of the $85,000 bond issue will be offered, and authorize the acceptance or rejection of bids.

The trip to inspect high schools of Southern California was postponed until some date to be named later when members will be able to go.

No additional sketches of high school buildings and grounds were submitted by the architects, but it is expected that a number of changes in the plans submitted will be made.

The board authorized the purchase of a second-hand Ford chassis to be used for instruction and demonstration purposes by the auto shop of the school.

Miss Brown, who has been teaching the evening women's gymnasium class, being ill, the appointment of another instructor as substitute was authorized.

$30,000 IS PAID FOR CLUB LOTS

Tuesday Afternoon Club Sells Brand Property to Newcomers

L. A. PURCHASERS

Endicott and Larson Close Deal With Burger Brothers

Today the option given three months ago by the Tuesday Afternoon club to Mr. Endicott of Endicott & Larson for $30,000 for its three lots on Brand and Lexington has expired and the property goes into escrow at that price.

The club receives $30,000 net and in cash. Mr. Endicott of Endicott & Larson who took the option and has sold the property, states that 100 feet on the northeast corner of Lexington and Brand have been bought by the Burger Brothers, i. e. Frank and Howard Burger of Los Angeles and Walter Burger of Glendale, and they will improve it with a business block.

The fifty feet north have been purchased by Willella W. Smith of Glendale, who has not indicated intentions with regard to improvement.

It will be remember that it was purchased a year ago last June by the club for $6,250, with two lots valued then at $1000 and $1500 taken in exchange by the sellers as part of the consideration.

When prices began to go up by leaps and bounds the club decided it was too valuable to keep for club purposes and placed it upon the market, at the same time securing a mortgage upon it for $9,000 with which four lots on Central avenue and Lexington avenue were purchased at a price of $17,250 last October. The property last named is larger than the Brand purchase price covering an increased area of 100 by 200 feet, and it too has advanced in value, the club having been besieged to sell a portion of it.

Architect Alfred Priest is at work on plans for a club house and as soon as the escrow started today is completed, it is probable that construction of the club home will begin on Central avenue.

BIDS ON HOUSES TO BE MOVED ARE OPENED

Board of Education Fails to Get Offer for Turck Residence

The first important matter considered by members of the board of education at their meeting Tuesday evening was bids for the three houses on property purchased for school purposes which are to be removed. For the house at 203 East Elk two bids were received, viz: from A. H. Chapman of 135 South Louise for $1003, and Harry M. Miller of 114 East Broadway for $950. No bids were received for the Turck residence on the site of the new Intermediate, or for the California house on Milford street lot recently purchased.

President Hibben and Superintendent White were named as a committee to inspect the houses and determine their value, with power to act in disposing of same.

Bids were received for the plastering of the Grand View school, previous bids having been rejected. The low bid of $3991, was made by C. H. Anderson.

The board's contract with Architect Lindsey for the Grand View school was duly signed.

Contracts drawn for bidders on work for that school which been approved were presented by the architect and referred to Mr. White for checking and if found in conformity with the bids accepted, will be signed by the president and secretary of the board.

Representatives of three different bidders on a heating system for the Grand View and Acacia school were given an audience, viz: the Williams Gas Steam Radiator Co., the Southern California Gas Co., the Pacific Radiator Co.

Heating contracts were awarded as follows: For Acacia avenue school to the Southern California Gas company to install the Cadco fas steam radiators; for the Grand View school to the Potter Radiator Co., to install the Potter radiator

A plan for the 4-room unit to be built at the Columbus avenue school was submitted by Arichatect Alfred Priest, approved and signed, and the architect was instructed to advertise for bids at the earliest possible moment.

Corn Fed Female Is Guzzler of Her Sex She Says

CHICAGO, March 15.—Corn fed girls, with their silo-still juice, make pikers of city flappers when it comes to imbibing.

Conditions along the great white ways are puritanical compared with those in the thousands of Main streets in America.

Take drinking, for instance. Mrs. Julia P. Kennedy, educatoinal supervisor in the Illinois department of health, qualified as an expert in rustic morals and this is what she said today:

"Conditions among the young people in small towns are so bad as to be almost indescribable. Morals are far worse than in the cities.

"A short time ago I found a group of high school girls, every one of whom had a small flask tied about her neck and buried in the bosom of her dress. In another school four pupils were expelled for being drunk.

"White mule can be obtained in every small town much easier than in Chicago. The small town girls drink mule, extracts of all kinds of mixtures. Awful stuff!"

Automobiles which carry young folks to the outskirts of town in a few minutes also contribute to the deplorable conditions, said Mrs. Kennedy.

The expert ventured the opinion it was more vicious for young persons to sit out in the great open spaces drinking synthetic spirits out of a gourd dipper than it was for city girls to imbibe in bright lighted cabarets.

LINEBERGER IS PUT ON RIVERS AND HARBORS

Asks Approval of Chamber of Commerce on Nomination

A telegram from Walter F. Lineberger, representative in congress from this district, to W. E. Evans, announcing the fact that he had been nominated by the house committee on committees to a place on the rivers and harbors committee, to fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of representative Osborne of the tenth district to the appropriations committee, was read to the board of directors of the Glendale chamber of commerce yesterday, and that body asked to send a telegram to Representative Lineberger advising him whether or not he should take the post on the committee. He is at present a member of the foreign affairs committee.

Following is the telegram from Representative Lineberger to Mr. Evans:

"Have been nominated by house committee on committees for place on rivers and harbors committee, vacated by reason of transfer of Representative Osborne of Tenth district to appropriations committee. Now member foreign affairs committee. Consult chambers of commerce and constituents your assembly district and wire me collect if you think I should make change."

The telegram was read and discussion as to whether Mr. Lineberger should take advantage of the offer started. It was the general opinion of the members of the board that inasmuch as the rivers and harbors committee was a matter of vital concern to Los Angeles and the entire district represented by Mr. Lineberger, that it was highly important for him to fill the vacancy created by the transfer of Mr. Osborne to the appropriations committee.

Members of the board of directors stated that the acceptance by Mr. Lineberger of the post on this committee in conjunction with Mr. Osborne on the appropriations committee, would be a double assurance that Los Angeles and this district would not be overlooked in the matter of appropriations for the improvement of rivers and harbors when the appropriations are made.

Secretary J. H. Rhoades was ordered to send the following telegram to Representative Lineberger:

"Glendale chamber of commerce believes your acceptance of appointment on rivers and harbors committee for the best interest of all concerned and congratulates you on the opportunity of so serving your district."

A similar telegram to the one read at the meeting of the directors of the local chamber has also been read at other chambers of commerce in the district represented by Mr. Lineberger.

HUNDREDS AT FUNERAL OF MISS MIDCALF

In Tender Remembrance of Her Life Work in Glendale

CHILDREN GRIEVE

Story of Her Early Training and Religious Life Told

Flowers in the radiance of perfect bloom, hyacinths, jonquils, roses, carnations, sweet peas, heather, each suggestive of some characteristic of the dearly beloved dead, were banked upon the platform and massed around the silver gray casket which contained the mortal part of Clara Midcalf Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist church.

Hundreds of children, sobered by their sense of loss filled the front pews. Teachers who had known her intimately in daily life were wiping their eyes and trying to comfort each other. Young matrons who had felt her guiding influence in frivolous girlhood were there, gray haired men and women of all walks of life came to pay tribute to a friend.

All the floral tokens of remembrance had special significance. Banking the coffin lid was a lovely mound of roses and sweet peat, from the City Teachers' club. From the P.-T. A. Federation came a wonderful wreath of pansies, for thoughts. Every member of that board which meets monthly at Intermediate, has some sweet thought to cherish of Clara Midcalf, and is a sincere mourner. Red roses are for love and the Intermediate school sent a great basket of long stemmed American Beauty roses, as free, natural, and untrammeled by the conventions of any "set piece" as was Clara Midcalf herself. There was a red, white and blue maltese cross from the Women's Relief Corps whose members came in a body with their color-bearers carrying a flag. Other organizations were suitably represented—the Ladies' Aid and Women's Missionary Societies of the church to which Miss Midcalf be-

VINE STREET IS ABSORBED BY WESTERN AVE.

From the office of Charles B. Guthrie comes the word that Vine street in Northwest Glendale, has been changed to Western avenue. In looking at a map of Los Angeles, Hollywood and Glendale it will be found that this newly named street is merely a continuation of the Western avenue in Los Angeles and Hollywood. This street runs by the Guthrie tract on Tenth street and Western avenue.

There are a great many tracts being improved in this district and quite a bit of activity is being shown there.

Judge Lowe Enforces the 18th Amendment to the Constitution

The approval of the editorial in the Glendale Daily Press yesterday entitled "Cheaply Bought Treason" was evidenced this morning by Judge Lowe, when he fined S. J. Laporte of 200 West Windsor road, $250 for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Judge Lowe is a reader of the Glendale Daily Press. By this the inference is not intended that it took an editorial of this character to stimulate the Glendale police judge to duty, for that official has always been on the job when it comes to punishing offenders, but it just goes to show that Judge Lowe and the Glendale Daily Press are of the same opinion in matters of this kind.

THE BADNESS OF HAM'S LITTLE BOY.

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

"They say Ham's little boy was the pest of the Ark," suggested Dr. Muskrat. "At least that's what the raven used to tell the First Muskrats about him."

"He did, did he?" sniffed the red dog. "Well, the raven ought to have known. He was thinking up devilment all the enduring time. He was downright mean. That ugly bird hadn't a friend except his wife, who was as bad as himself; and Shem, by the time the flood got the Ark to floating. They used to fix things up between them so somebody else would get the blame. Only we mostly got wind of it in time.

"But Ham's youngster was just a skeezicks as long as my folks knew him. Of course there wasn't a lick of work in him. I s'pose you know that the Ark was coated, inside and out, with pitch. That's the sticky juice of a pine. It ought to have been boiled down till it would dry hard, like paint. But it dasn't. So every bug who went sneaking out of its cage—and you couldn't keep them shut in—would get its feet stuck. Well, his Uncle Shem told Ham's boy to pick them all off and put them back where they belonged.

"You can guess what happened. He took to catching new ones—and sticking them on. He said it was the only place they'd stay put. As it certainly was.

"The raven really suggested it. Because when he could get loose himself he'd go and eat them. Shem caught him at it and the crafty bird pretended he'd just found out what was going on and was shocked to death.

"Then Shem set the young rascal to minding the sheep. He pulled some of their wool off and stuck it on his face—with pitch for stickum—so it made white hair and whiskers. They say he was the very spit and image of his granddaddy. Then he took a stick and began squinting over it at the sun, exactly as Mister Noah was always doing. I don't know if the raven told Shem or if he just heard the monkeys snickering. Anyway he tiptoed round the end of the cabin and caught him.

"Wow, but Shem was wrathy! He took his nephew by the ear, just as he was, and dragged him over to show Mister Noah how disrespectful he had been. Mister Noah didn't notice it at first, being so very absentminded. Then when Shem showed him he just said, 'Well, well; boys will be boys.' I suspect your baby will be quite a cut-up himself when he gets to be as big as this one.' So that's all that happened that time."

The church orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Isom, formed part of the delegation and upon arrival rendered several numbers which delighted the boys of the home greatly. Dr. V. P. Ervin, accompanied by his mother, gave a violin solo. A duet was rendered by Fay Know and Judson Blanchard, accompanied by Mrs. Knox. The Higgins brothers gave saxophone and banjo duets.

Besides Rev. Stephenson the older ones were Mesdames Knox, Blanchard, Carlson and Reid, who served cake and cocoa while the Endeavorers provided home-made candy for the inmates of the home. It was a very pleasant occasion, not only for the boys but for the Burbank young folks.

In buying poultry in the market remember that the good always die young.

COUNTY C. E. CONVENTION SOON

BURBANK, March 15. — The county Christian Endeavor convention is to be held at Hollywood March 17, 18 and 19, and a large delegation from Burbank will attend. On Sunday there will be special services at which so large an attendance is expected that the meeting will be held in the stadium. At this service Rev. Stephenson of this city will deliver the sermon.

EDWARD LESLIE WHITE.

Sunday morning Edward Leslie White junior, 10 months old, died at the home of his parents, 77 Verdugo avenue, Burbank, after a few days' illness of pneumonia. Besides the parents there is a little sister and a step sister surviving. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the home, the services being conducted by Rev. Bicker of the Holiness church. Mr. White has been a resident of Burbank most of the time for the past forty years. He is employed at the Moreland factory.

MAIL CARRIER SICK.

BURBANK, March 15. — Mr. Henry, who for years has carried the mail from the depot to the postoffice and from the postoffice to the trains, is confined to his home on Palm avenue, although at present he is some better than he was last week.

BURBANK PERSONALS

David Morgan and four children and their governess, from Santa Monica, were the week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. German of Olive avenue. The Germans also entertained for several days Dr. German's niece, Mrs. Phillips, of Portland, Ore.

G. M. Fainot and wife have moved from San Jose and Sixth street to their new property at 614 Olive avenue. They expect to begin at once the erection of a five room bungalow on the front of their lot.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.—Adv.

NOTICE OF STREET WORK

Public notice is hereby given that the Council of the City of Glendale,

THORNYCROFT VETS ARE CLEVER CRAFTSMEN

Now Offer for Sale Array of Hand-Wrought Art Goods

The war veterans of Thornycroft sanitarium are offering for sale to the people of Glendale and vicinity some truly remarkable features in the way of baskets and small reed craft, trays, book ends, desk sets, luncheon and hand-painted features, dainty French painting in oils, in the creation of which the celebrated French pen is used, raffia and Indian work, etc.

Sounds strange, doesn't it—all these wonderful things being made by mere men? But a trip to Thornycroft will reveal an array of beautiful features for the home that will almost make you gasp with surprise. Not for a great while have these war veterans been employed in making these wonderful things, but notwithstanding this fact they have become trully proficient in the art.

About two years ago the United State Veteran bureau of hospital training school was established at Thornycroft sanitarium. At that time the work was not well received and the school gradually died a natural death. On February 7th Mr. Colodny, who was the first educational director of this work in Los Angeles county, took over the work at Thornycroft. He has a complete new program, which is meeting with hearty support of most of the veterans. Mrs. Colodny is a very able assistant in this work.

This work of creating fancy and useful articles is accompanied by instruction along preparatory-for-business lines. This school takes the veteran just as he is and from that point carries him along until he reaches the point where he is able to, enter vocational training. While taking vocational training, the veteran is paid from $100 to $170 per month by the government, and when he has finished the government secures a position for him and keeps an eye on him until he has made good.

But while inmates of the hospital these men are trying to make a little money for themselves. They are putting in their spare time in manufacturing these wonderful things, the first of which are now on display. The people of Glendale are asked to call at Thornycroft and to inspect the handiwork of the boys. The plan of the boys is to sell their wares at about 25 per cent less than the same articles can be purchased in Los Angeles, so that those who purchase any of these things cannot feel that they are in any way extending charity to the veterans, but are getting just a little more than their money's worth. The people of Glendale must not conflict the articles the boys are turning out with cheap, thrown-together features along their particular lines.

Of interest to the boys at Thornycroft was the visit of Mrs. George Guppy of Alhambra, Tuesday. Mrs. Guppy was formerly an instructor at the Walter Reed hospital at Washington, D. C. and the Public Health Institute at Palo Alto. She visited the hospital for a day in order that she might given the boys the value of her knowledge in connection with the operation of some of the looms, and other machinery, in which work she is an expert.

The articles manufactured at Thorncroft are just the things for the birthday, wedding or other gift. They are different and are features that would be appreciated by anyone.

No popular writer is a genius to his stenographer.

HUNDREDS ATTEND MIDCALF FUNERAL

longed, the choir, of which she was a member, the Queen Esther class which she led, the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, and other groups to whom she was dear.

The service began with music by a quartet of the Methodist choir with Mrs. Randall at the organ, the vocalists being Miss Isabel Isgrig, Miss Dorothy Peart, Mr. M. S. Kuehny, Mr. Frank Butterfield who sang "Rock of Ages." Later Miss Peart and Mr. Kuehny sang in duet the gospel hymn "He Walks With Me and He Talks With Me," and Miss Isgrig sang in solo at the conclusion of the service, "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me."

There was scripture reading by Dr. A. C. Stevens of San Francisco of favorite passages—"The Lord is My Shepherd," "Let not your heart be troubled," triumphant quotations from Paul, the Apostle, and then a prayer by Dr. Clyde Monroe Crist, who voiced his thanks that such a woman had lived to be an inspiration to all whose lives she had touched.

Later in the few words he spoke of her vital influence in the life of the church, Dr. Crist declared that the crowning evidence of the existence of God in the world is the life of a good man or a good woman. Said he, "We are standing now in the presence of one who was good and she was not only good but was good for something. She literally gave her life for others. The great thing that inspired her was the privilege of service. Whenever she was engaged in activities she was intense and alive. What a wonderful thing it is to see one who has actually forgotten self in service! The words she was so fond of singing express the real spirit of her life.

"Lord help me live from day to day
In such a self forgetful way
That even when I kneel to pray
My prayer shall be for others.

"And when my work on earth is done
And my new work in heaven begun,
May I forget the crown I've won
In thinking still of others."

In a voice hard for him to control because of his emotion, Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, endeavored to speak of the service which Miss Midcalf had rendered the schools and the community of Glendale, declaring it was impossible for him to formulate in speech the things he felt. Said he in part:

"When I became connected with the Glendale city schools and associated with Miss Midcalf I realized that she was one to whom I could unhesitatingly trust the young lives of Glendale, not alone for instruction but for their moral and spiritual welfare. That feeling in the nine years I was privileged to work beside her grew from day to day. No matter how big was the task placed before her, she never under any circumstances thought of self. Of the wonderful character she produced I consider the outstanding feature 'patriotism,' and patriotism means service.

"I know, friends, that you are going to pardon me if I cannot say many words today but I am going to try to sum it up in the message I think she would have for us could she speak: 'Carry on!'—to reanze in our lives the ideals that inspired hers; to so live that we may in some small measure do for humanity the great work that she undertook."

Mr. Stevens told very beautifully and with deep feeling, of his association with Clara Midcalf when began 16 years ago when she came to the mission of the First Methodist church of St. Paul of which he was pastor and took up the work of a deaconess for which she had taken two years' training in Washington following nine years as a teacher in the public schools of Saginaw, Michigan. He described her entrance into the church, particularly among the young people by whom she was affectionately known as "Middy." That connection lasted for four years, when she became superintendent of a deaconess institution and then came west because of the ill-health of her mother. He referred to her activities in connection with the many organizations with which she was connected in Glendale expressing wonder at her capacity for doing so much, and dwelt on her enthusiastic patriotic service during the world war. Said he:

"I am thinking today of the woman with whom Jesus talked when he said 'One thing is needful. Mary hath chosen the good part which shall not be taken away from her.' Clara Midcalf hath chosen the good part. I would rather have the love of this audience of boys and girls and be as she is today than to have the plaudits of thousands. Clara Midcalf was a good citizen. What is it that we recall this afternoon? Her personality, her smile, her eagerness, her sympathy, her decision of character.

"Service was the outstanding thing about Clara Midcalf and that is why she is dead. She did not rest enough. She wanted to pour out her life in helpfulness. She withheld nothing, she gave herself. This woman chose the Christian part, the helpful part, the gentle part, the love part that will never die."

The final services were held at the Forest Lawn Memorial park, where the body of Miss Midcalf was consigned to a vault until such time as her brother in Honolulu can come to witness its interment.

Serving as pallbearers were Misses Carrie Noble, Lulu Wooldridge, Frances Jackson, Edna F. Duffey, Carol Duncan, Alice Lookabaugh, Adelia Salstrom and Vera Sinclair, all teachers who had long been associated with Miss Midcalf.

It was one of the most largely attended funerals that has taken place in the city and many relatives and close friends of the dead teacher were present, the list including Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Blake, Barbara and Ralph Blake of Fresno, Jack Blake of Harvard Military Academy, Mrs. Mary J. Lewis of Los Angeles, Miss Maxine Simpson of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Redd and daughter Cleo, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Haskell and son Harland and daughter Norma of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Milcalf and daughters Rosalie and Jean of Ventura, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Midcalf of Glendale, Mrs. Spahr, Miss Ann Bruh, Miss Helen Butler, Mrs. B. Woolmes, Mrs. C. A. Plattner, Mrs. R. E. Heister.

LEGION BENEFIT AT THE GLENDALE

while there Edith returns with her German baby, beseeching him to care for both. Francis returns on leave, finds the child and at once accuses John. There follows a terrific duel between the two, which is stopped by Edith's confession anew of her treatment as a deportee.

The two each loving Edith, conceal their common misery, join hands for vengeance and return to the front. Francis is killed and John is driven insane, later to escape ad return to Edith's home. She welcomes him and he spends a weird and uncanny night posting letters under village doorways. Next day the villagers crowd Edith's home, John explaining that he has asked them to come so that he might tell them a story.

With grotesque gesticulations, yet impassionate speech, born of a disordered brain, he describes what he terms a miracle observed in a vast soldier cemetery where the dead were resurrected in order that they might determine for themselves if the world had been worthy of their supreme sacrifice.

"I accuse," cries John and then takes his listeners one by one and accuses them, men and women, of infidelity to their soldier kin at the front, of profiteering in mean and petty ways by the deaths of the fighters, and of enriching themselves at home by the great sacrifice the soldiers have made.

The people of Glendale should turn out in force and support the Legion boys to the limit. The show to be put on will be more than worth the price of admission, and in addition to people who attend will have the realization of assisting in a good cause.

The Legion is wondering if the business establishments in the city will purchase tickets for their employees, for one of the three nights. If the Glendale storekeepers will do this, the boys will have a full house every evening.

H. S. Webb, proprietor of the Webb Dry Goods store, has set the pace by securing tickets for all the employes in his store. A telephone call to Attorney James F. McBride will bring a Legion boy with a whole fist full of tickets.

BUSIEST PHOTOGRAPHER

BUENOS AIRES, March 15.—There's a photographer in this city who claims to be the busiest in the world. When the Argentine government decided to inaugurate the "Cedula" system for the identification of citizens, he was appointed to do the "snaps" and he's had a slack day when he takes less than 500. The other day his serial number had reached the eight figure mark. "One a minute" is his motto.

Truths in Epigram

The success of any great moral enterprise does not depend upon numbers.— Garrison (1805-1879).

The fact disclosed by a survey of the past that majorities have been wrong must not blind us to the complementary fact that majorities have usually not been entirely wrong.—Spencer (1829-1903).

THE BAR INVESTIGATES

In seeking to find the cause of the present prevalence of crime, the American Bar association has rebuked most savagely, certain members of the legal profession. The committee intimated that many men practicing law deserved to be in jail. It also called attention to the difficulty of convicting the guilty. These were the aspects of the situation having to do with the bar itself. Other facts were figured into the result as revealed by daily records.

The relation of the war to crime was considered. By some it was held that the crime wave was not the outgrowth of the war, but merely a manifestation of one of the causes that led to the war. Others held that training men to kill had changed their characters. Strangely enough, the economic condition that has deprived many of the chance to earn a living, was not mentioned. It was held by the committee that a belief is growing that the courts are for the rich, and that they deny justice to the poor.

That members of the legal profession admit the faults of lawyers, is an indication of desire to be fair. The correction of these faults seems to lie with the bar. It has the privilege of excluding the unfit, and it has been singularly reluctant to exercise a right that is at once a protection to its own integrity, and to society. The fact would have to be acknowledged by any fair-minded observer that there are criminal lawyers of such repute, that the defendant who seeks their services is considered by such act to have made a confession of guilt, and uttered a defiance to statute and court.

The difficulty of convicting even those whose guilt, despite the "presumption of innocence" is almost assured in advance, has been illustrated recently. The courts of this state did score a triumph in convicting a woman of murder. She is now in the penitentiary. The higher courts have passed upon the case and decided that there is no ground for further action.

Just at this stage appears a lawyer only recently restored to the right to practice, and attempts to reopen the whole matter. As viewed from outside the legal profession, his conduct appears to be outrageous. If the ethics of that profession sustain him, then, indubitably, the members of it lose in public esteem. If they lose in esteem, the courts are weakened, since the lawyer engaged in a case, becomes an officer of the court.

Increase in crime is appalling in this country. No similar increase is noted in other lands. In Chicago, for example, in a single year there were 119 arrests for criminal assault, while in the Province of Quebec there was a single arrest for this offense, and it was the first in a period of sixty-five years. Canada was in the war, and not corrupted, a circumstance that seems to clear the war of responsibility for the reign of wickedness that is baffling American police.

AVOIDABLE BUT NOT AVOIDED

Last Sunday there were a number of fatal accidents on the highways hereabouts. Probably some of these will be classed as unavoidable. If a man jumps off a cliff, the injuries that result may be termed unavoidable. So it is with the average accident that wrecks an automobile and destroys life. Reckless drivers rush into conditions that make disaster inevitable. They had not needed to rush into these conditions at all. A verdict of "unavoidable accident" merely spreads the mantle of a useless charity.

One of the tragedies of last Sunday occurred at a grade crossing. This driver was his own victim. As he approached the crossing, a number of machines were standing there awaiting the passing of a train. In order to incur danger this driver was obliged to circle around the waiting machines. Such was the course he elected to take, and his life was the penalty.

Other disasters marking the day were ascribed to intoxication. When drunken men undertake to drive on crowded roads, the result may almost be figured out in advance. Probably were the act of driving while under the influence of liquor, treated as the felony that the statutes declared it to be, there would be a considerable lessening of the practice.

Accidents keep up at the present appalling rate, not because they are unavoidable, but because human beings are careless, ignoring the rules of law, and also the rules of recent courtesy. So many of them are greedy and brutal that the record piled up, and added to daily, is a fearful thing to contemplate. Yet common sense and politeness combined, would prevent probably nine out of ten of the deplorable wrecks to which deaths and maimings are incident.

WHAT IS POLITICS

Among the questions asked of Mr. Edison of women voters of New Jersey is this: "What is politics?" Well, what is politics? Quite possibly the distinguished inventor of questions and more substantial things, this time is in quest of information. Usually when he hurls a query it is for the purpose of testing the recipient's mental acumen and sounding the depths of his or her store of knowledge. Always there is the presumption that the answer is known to Edison. If in this instance, it is known, the definition would be welcomed.

When any measure of general benefit is held up in congress, there is the whisper that delay or defeat is due to politics. When a man is elected to office and finds that his hands are tied by forces with which he may contend only at the risk of his head, he is said to be the victim of politics. When corruption exists in public places, in the governing of a city or a commonwealth, the explanation is politics. When attempts to reach and punish the rascals fail, once more there is the familiar answer. Politics, always politics. No wonder that ordinary people have come to regard politics as a sinister game, heartless and devoid of all conscience.

Senators prominent in national councils favored the principle that was embodied in the compact upon which rested the League of Nations. Then they turned against these precise principles, derided, assailed and defeated them. They threw away the world leadership, because their own names would not have been engraved deep upon the record of achievement. That was politics, as opposed to statemanship. Now these same men advocate the four-power pact; an excellent pact, apparently wise and beneficient. But as they do so they are playing politics again.

Politics, as an ideal, is the art of conducting public affairs. Politics as a reality is a system of tricks, a method of promoting party interests, however contrary to general interests. It is the few, not only monopolizing the deck, but playing with marked cards. There is no expectation that the women of New Jersey will say this, or anything like it. They have not long been studying the subject, and doubtless they will bring to its consideration, a more lofty conception than the facts warrant.

PLAYING WITH PLESIOSAURUS

Somebody is making a merry rattling among plesiosaurian bones, and fossilized bones at that, surely by reason of age entitled to a finer respect. The story that one of the prehistoric creatures still shakes the mountains of Patagonia as it drags its sinuous way from range to range seems to have been taken seriously. A scientist announces himself as on the way to seek out the monster and putting salt on its tail.

Now a correspondent tells that the Buenos Aires S. P. C. A. is protesting loudly against killing or capturing the ancient and lone survivor of unrecorded days. It is to be hoped that the humane impulses of this organization shall be permitted to prevail. Nobody would know what to do with plesiosaurus in captivity, and the lashing of its bony rear extension would be likely to work havoc. If the poor thing has been roaming for centuries in quest of the mate who vanished while the world was young, it has troubles enough of its own already. Surely it is entitled to the boon of freedom, since it appears to have done no harm. If the scientist was to come upon it there could be no objection were he to take a shot at it with the camera. In no other way could he convince a skeptical world that he is the victim of moonshine, the term not being used in its present generally offensive sense. "Moonshine" meant buncombe, hocuspocus and hokum, long before it had been attached to the product of the illicit still.

And now when we read the press dispatches speaking of Mary and her husband, we don't know whether it is Mary and the Viscount or Mary and Doug.

In St. Paul a jury of seven women and five men was locked up in the same room over night. One of the men asked for a screen.

If they keep crowding Henry with rival cheap cars, he may next year give 'em away. You never can tell what Henry is up to till he does it.

THE CASE FOR FRANCE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

In the court of American public opinion the case for France should at least be clearly stated.

As near as we can come at the consensus of public opinion among the leaders of French thought and the directors of French action, the case may be stated substantially as follows:

DR. FRANK CRANE

It is with somewhat of dismay that the French people become aware that the people in the allied countries, with whom they have recently been in such close unity in standing the universal peril, seems to have the idea that the Republic of France, intoxicated by its military victories and swelling with vanity, is getting ready to put on the grand airs of Louis XIV. and to swagger about in the boots of Napoleon.

France is not drunk with military glory. Proud as she may be of the endurance and heroism that her sons have shown for more than four years upon the battle-field, she still knows all too well, what that victory cost her in men and money, and could consider another war with nothing but horror.

What could she hope from another conflict?

She has already delivered Alsace and Lorraine and she has a Colonial Empire which has reached the limit of her expansive force. What more could she want? The left bank of the Rhine? She knows that the left bank of the Rhine is peopled with six million Germans and that she could incorporate it by force only in violating her own principles and exposing herself to a war of revenge which would be justified on the part of Germany.

What certain of our British and American friends take for imperialism or militarism, is our set purpose to compel Germany to fulfill the obligations imposed by that Treaty to which all the Allies have affixed their signatures.

What our friends take for militarism is the anxiety of a peace-loving people of forty million inhabitants—a number which is not increasing—who are neighbors to a country of eighty million inhabitants, the number of which is constantly increasing, who have twice in fifty years subjected France to the horror and shame of invasion and who, whatever they may be individually, have shown a singular docility in allowing themselves to be dominated by a military party.

It is not surprising that Bolshevik Russia cries out against French militarism, since had it not been for the aid of France the Red Armies long ago would have trampled Poland in the dust.

It is not surprising that the Germans consider as militarism our determination to remain upon the Rhine and not to disarm rapidly, since without that constant menace Germany would never pay her debt.

But that our friends in America and Great Britain should place their faith is so gross a charge betrays indeed an incomprehensible ignorance of the nature of the French people and the ideals of the French Republic.

This in a nutshell is a statement of the case for France.

THE LISTENING POST

Unavoidable things.
Those that must take place.
Or happen or occur as the case may be.
Beyond human control.
Those that cannot be prevented or stopped or denied.

* * *

But unavoidable things are those things only over which human beings have no control.
The course of the planets is unavoidable.
Not to be prevented or stopped or denied.
No human agency can affect them.

The progress of the earth about the sun.
The progress of the moon, as the satellite of the earth.
The rotation of the earth upon its axis.
None of these things is avoidable.
Or preventable.
By any human power.

The thunderstorm.
The rain.
The earthquake.
The tornado.
The coming of the seasons.
All unavoidable things.

But when we speak of "unavoidable accidents" we are using language which is inexact.
And are not telling the truth.
Because no accident is unavoidable.
Unless it should be the crashing of one planet into another.

That would be an unavoidable accident.
Just as the sweeping of a comet's tail along the street of a town.
Licking up houses and people with fire.
The destructive havoc of an earthquake.
The lightning stroke.
These things are, we might say, unavoidable.

Because they are beyond our control.
But planets do not collide in space.
At least, they have not so far as we know.
Comets may lick up stars.
But not to our earthly disadvantage.
Lightning strokes are few.

But in our earthly affairs accidents are avoidable.
Wars are avoidable.
Pestilences are to a large extent avoidable.
The difficulty with most of us that we trust to luck.
And luck often fails us.

Poverty, disease, war, pestilence, famine—all reasonably avoidable.
Just as with motor car accidents.
All avoidable.
If we choose to exercise caution, common sense and care.

A motor car driver passes three standing cars and seeks to get across a track before a swiftly moving train.
And it was unavoidable that he should be smashed up.
If—
If he got on the track where the train passed.

* * *

But—
He did not have to get on the track.
So the accident was avoidable.
Had he exercised prudence and care.
So it was not an unavoidable accident.
It was an altogether avoidable accident.

Five deaths from carelessness at the beginning of this week in motor car driving in one city.
All the result of accidents that were avoidable.
Five lives wasted.
Because men trusted to luck and chance.

QUERY:
What law or rule or mandate or ordinance or regulation or anything else will prevent a driver from deliberately doing that which prudence, good sense and reasonable regard for life and safety says he should not do?
Unless he submits himself to the directions of common sense and wisdom and prudence.

How can you legislate to prevent a man's leaping off a ten-story building?
Provided he wants to do it?

SONGS OF THE POETS

To Night—By Joseph Blanco White (1775-1841)

Mysterious Night! when our first parent knew
Thee from report divine, and heard thy name,
Did he not tremble for this lovely frame,
This glorious canopy of light and blue?
Yet 'neath the curtain of translucent dew,
Bathed in the rays of the great setting flame,
Hesperus with the host of heaven came,
And lo! creation widened on man's view.
Who could have thought such darkness lay concealed
Within thy beams, O Sun! or who could find,
While fly, and leaf, and insect stood revealed,
That to such countless orbs thou mad'st us blind!
Why do we, then, shun Death with anxious strife?—
If Light can thus deceive, wherefore not Life?

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

GERMAN LUXURIES

[George M. Priest, in the Independent and the Weekly Review]

A change in Germany which is quickly noted by foreign observers has to do with the expenditures in cafes and theaters. The foreigner is amazed by such extravagance, and he is more and more amazed the longer he stays. In many instances this wast of money means without doubt great prosperity. Many Germans, especially farmers and day laborers, have at present incomes far greater than they ever hoped for. The German cafes and theaters are filled with people obviously of this sort. The old-time substantial Germans shrink from going to cafes and restaurants because they do not want to see these spendthrifts. In any case—and this is the point here—Germans are spending on momentary pleasures enormous sums of money which they ought to save—and which in past years they did save. The Germans are losing their sense of thrift. Possession and property have no longer the meaning and the attraction which they once had. Some Germans say, "It is property that the government taxes first and most heavily, why acquire it?" Others point to Austria and say, "What's the use of struggling?" The Germans in general are becoming more and more indifferent and apathetic toward the possible disasters of tomorrow. This is the most ominous change in the Germans.

THERE WILL BE AIRSHIPS YET

[New York World]

The wisdom of replacing the Roma would be doubtful, as Secretary Weeks has said, but it would be even more unwise for the United States to cease experimenting with the airship because of the failures so far recorded. What is needed is not another Roma or another R-38 but a lighter-than-air model built throughout by American engineers, using the data which have been accumulated at so great an expense of life and money. Trying out dirigibles is a hazardous business. The government was aware of that fact when it ordered the tests. But the dirigible will be perfected somewhere soon or late, and there is little to be said for dropping the whole enterprise because of the initial sacrifices involved.

Instead of ending now the experiments should begin. It would be a sad comment on our mechanical genius if this accident to an airship buit in Italy should put a period to American development of lighter-than-air machines.

HARDING'S SUBSIDY SCHEMES

[Springfield Republican]

Mr. Harding was elected on a platform of "more business in government and less government in business." Government ownership and operation of a merchant marine was thus excluded from the possible alternatives, so far as this administration was concerned.

There is probably no considerable body of public opinion today in favor of the continuance of the government in the shipping business. The losses in connection with the operations of the shipping board have been so stupendous that government shipping is no longer within the range of practical politics.

The proposal of a government subsidy for privately owned and operated ships is a confession that the American merchant marine cannot exist in foreign trade under normal competition with the other maritime powers. The cost of ship construction in America is so high, wages and working conditions for American crews so far outclass those acceptable to the crews of our foreign competitors' ships, that on no economic basis alone can American shipping survive. Economically speaking, our merchant marine is a dead duck.

The argument for subsidies, which means taxing the American people in order to maintain an ocean shipping whose business could be more cheaply done by the English, Norwegians, Dutch and Japanese, must be based mainly on patriotic and naval grounds. In war time our navy's operations would be seriously handicapped without an adequate merchant shipping to support it. The western republican opposition to ship subsidies is of lond standing and the President yesterday attempted to dull it by indorsing the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway project. The west can have a direct waterway to the ocean if it will not oppose the building up of privately owned eastern shipping with government money. How the farm bloc in congress reacts to this proposal may determine the fate of the subsidy bill which now has been introduced as an administration measure.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

Why this wholesale howl arising about feminine apparel? Why is it of world concern if lipsticks and rouge and powder and belladonna are used, also? People who are making it are merely the victims of shallow thought, for they all admit that they enjoy seeing beauty. If they delved a trifle deeper into conditions they would see that what they really desire is more artistic, trained feminity. If each girl was required to take an art course before leaving the junction of the brook and the river no one would know that artificial aids to beauty were being used! Let the objectors work for this course to be included in the curriculums of our public schools (at about the sixth grade).

Then the galoshes flapping freely! Why object? Fresh air is known to be widely beneficial. Why coop the feminine foot and ankle in a tight water and air proof covering! We have been struggling for freedom of the seas—why not freedom of the galoshes? We have desired "open treaties openly arrived at"—why not overshoes equally free? We have delegated the power of the political field to women—why object to a harmless, unessential fad?

And the hair dressing! Why vent one's spleen on the various lumps and structures with which we enjoy adorning (or otherwise) our heads? If we decree to look like Hottentots or Chinese ladies for a short period of style, why rant at us? There's no positive sin in it if we want to make ourselves hideous, is there? We'll do it, anyway, so what's the use?

Right here comes a dark thought. It may be that masculinity is so intent upon this criticism in order to divert attention from things much worse in their own careers! Who knows?

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

"Mother love will prevail over greed and selfishness. This is the age of social betterment. When the United States Supreme Court upheld woman suffrage it removed the last barrier to social progress."

These are the words of Mrs. Mary E. La Rocca, representing 150,000 women members of the Supreme Forest, Woodman Circle, at the National Fraternal Congress in Chicago. Her words should have a special significance. Certainly they are worth considering. Her viewpoint is somewhat different from that of the advocate of suffrage who saw only the political power it would put in her hands and which she planned to use in much the same manner that she had seen it used before suffrage became a fact.

Mrs. La Rocca utters a plea for betterment of conditions for babies, a noble plea which she puts in these words:

"Twenty million American homes are shaping the lives of the next generation. Suffrage brought to 28,000,000 women the chance for equal responsibility. Mother love and the mother viewpoint will light the way to higher citizenship. Women's organizations are experiencing a phenomenal growth. Mothers are coming to the realization that child welfare means world welfare.

"Statisticians tell us that over 200,000 babies can be saved every year by merely giving mothers and prospective mothers information concerning infant hygiene. To save 200,000 babies a year would bring over a million children into school six years hence who would otherwise have died. Could there be a more noble effort?

"Women must stand together and work together for the things every true woman wants; better opportunity for every child, higher ideals of womanhood and motherhood, better health, education, recreation and spiritual welfare."

Today is the last day for filing income tax reports. The business man of today spends a considerable portion of his time complying with government requirements for statistics. Newspapers must make accurate reports of the amount of white paper used. Millers must file reports of the various amounts and grades of grain and cereals ground and other manufacturers must furnish voluminous reports—all of which require time and study and frequently business men find it necessary to devote long hours to this duty for which they receive no remuneration. If the compilation of the complicated income tax was the only duty it would be bad enough, but on top of this come other reports which are commencing to be a real burden on business men and go far toward slowing up production. After all the simplest way is the most effective way of doing business and perhaps some day we may reach that way of doing business.

Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, says that the sun of prosperity is still shining, thought it has been unnecessarily obscured. He sees a gradual, but limited improvement in business with a return gradually to stability, progress and prosperity. Judge Gary ought to know. He has his pulse upon the main artery of business.

The wave of crime which has been sweeping over the country, the defiance of law and order, night riders, burglaries, murders and hold-ups prompts different communities to take different methods to meet the situation. Back in New Jersey the citizens of Woodlynne have organized a vigilante committee, secured a big tank of melting tar and a liberal supply of feathers and announce that the first man caught in a hold-up is to be given a coat of tar and feathers and carried through the streets as an example to the community. Out west we grant the offenders probation.

From New York comes this story which shows that normalcy has not as yet been reached: A girl who spent four years studying to qualify as a secretary to a big business man, has left her $25-per-week job to become a waitress in a tearoom where she is now averaging $70 a week on tips and a $12 retainer. Men who buy their hats back at 10 cents must realize that there is cause to believe the above story.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Looking back through history I discover that the heroes and martyrs got most of the first page position, so to speak. They got the display heads. Any time that a historian felt like putting out a five-star late news extra with complete baseball scores he featured the current hero and martyr. And that is undoubtedly all right. Heroism and martyrdom must be excellent things to boost. Otherwise our poor human race would not have spent so much time boosting them.

Only—and here is where I get heretical and snippy—I wonder sometimes whether the heroes and martyrs did this world all the good they are credited with.

I have in mind the other sort of a man as I write. He isn't a hero. If he ever found himself threatened with martyrdom he would drop a barrage of recantation between himself and the fagots. But he has done more good to his community in his time than all the stiff-necked, no-compromise, bitter-ender, irreconcilable last-ditchers that I know of. He has always been pointed in the right direction, but——

And here's his secret:

He had rather compromise on half the good he desires than get no good at all and die a glorious but unpleasant death in the middle of the public square. He has always been able to see the other man's point of view, even if he has not been able to agree with it. He has recognized that simply because a man does not agree with him it does not necessarily follow that the other man is a son of Satan and a highbinder and a wolf in lamb's wool. He has approached the problems of this life in a spirit of intelligent, good-natured, generous compromise.

"If two men who are quarreling will sit down at a table," he has always said, "determined to be candid with each other and not get angry, it is a practical certainty that they can reach some sort of agreement. One will give up a little and the other will make a slight gain."

Next year he would do it all over again. By following that practice he has made his name one of the truly honored ones in his community and he has done an infinite amount of good. There is another man in the same town who is more intelligent, more brilliant, but absolutely uncompromising. He, too, is always headed in the right direction, but he doesn't get anywhere. People think of him as a crank. If he had lived a few hundred years ago he would have expired in the odor of sanctity and wood smoke.

The heroes and martyrs were good advertisers. And they served their times and causes well. But I wonder—I feebly and falteringly wonder—if the genial middle-of-the-roader did not do more for humanity?

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

Yellow instead of white is the "clear" signal on railroads in this country. A white light means broken glass and indicates "stop."

One of the largest tunnels ever constructed is that for the canal from Marseilles to the Rhone in France. It will be about 8000 yards long.

The biggest electric sign in the world, shaped like a star and measuring over a quarter of a mile from point to point, is now operating at the Croydon air station, London, to assist pilots in landing during the winter months.

Her rather thrilling appeal for the better things of life deeply impressed her audience of young people, her numbers including Ruth Comfort Mitchell's "Salvation," or the spiritual evolutoin of the high school boy, snatched from his studies to the war in France where he gained a new viewpoint of the Salvation Army and of religion in general. HUNT FAMILY GET SAD NEWS

Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Hunt of 644 West Myrtle street have received word of the death of Mrs. Hunt's cousin, Ellis Lewis Garretson, at Tacoma, Wash. Mr. Garretson was in 1920 imperial potentate of the Shriners of North America and he died suddenly Tuesday morning at his suburban home.

TUESDAY CLUB ENTERTAINS MEN FOLKS

Glee Club of University of So. California Give Fine Program

The Tuesday Afternoon club had opportunity Tuesday evening to play hostess in a charming manner when husbands, brothers and sweethearts were entertained delightfully at the Pearl Keller studio by the Glee club of the University of Southern California, the program being followed by refreshments of cake and coffee by members of the hospitality committee headed by Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, chairman.

Only sixteen of the twenty-five members of the Glee club appeared in chorus but there were no complaints in regard to the quality of music furnished, their voices blending delightfully.

Interspersed with the musical program were semi-dramatic numbers, Bernard Brennan, who has real Irish red hair, reciting Italian dialect, Raymond Brennan and Reginald Dupuy staging the duologue of the falling out and reconciliation of an irascible uncle and his graceless young nephew very much in love with "Rose." There was a pianologue by Raymond Cowley in connection with a very clever chalk talk by Vernon Grant.

Other numbers were: "Glory and Love" (Gounod), "Sword of Ferrara" (Bullard), "The Thrush at Eve" (Cadman), "But, They Didn't" (Rogers), "On the Sea" (Buck), "Just Like Your Eyes" (Homer Grunn), "Song of the Vikings" (Faning) and Alma Mater, all sung by the Glee club; "Echoes from Hawaii" by George Freeman; "Homing" (Del Riego) by Howard Coy; cornet solo, "Good-bye" (Tosti) and encore, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," played very beautifully by Irving Ulmer; vocal trio which took the place of the quartet and sang "De Coppah Moon" and "Swing Along, Chilluns." Mrs. Lois Waltz was the piano accompanist.

"Oh, Richard, now fine you look today," cried Mrs. Dove before she gave her husband a smacking kiss on his left cheek. "I do believe I have the best looking husband in Mudtown!"

And she gave him a resounding kiss on the other cheek.

Richard Dove looked steadily into his wife's eyes. What he saw was admiration and love—love and admiration—nothing else.

"And I have the smartest husband, too," went on Mrs. Dove proudly; stealing another glance at him.

Mr. Dove started to speak, but stopped.

"And the lovingest and kindest, also," finished Mrs. Dove. There was nothing more she could add.

"What is it, Nazimova?"

"I need a new dress, Dickie," she cooed. "I just saw the lovliest one in Swindel's yesterday for—"

"I'm sorry, Nazimova," said Mr. Dove, "but I can't afford to buy a new dress. If it was a hat, now, I might—"

"Oh, dear!" sighed Mrs. Dove. "Well, then, I will have to be satisfied with a hat!" she said, looking down to hide the light of satisfaction in her eyes.

As she went upstairs that evening to put little Willie to bed she laughed softly to herself.

"That was a great idea," she thought. "I only wanted a hat, anyway. I'll have to tell Mrs. Love to use it on her Horatio."

Two old friends—Johnson and Thompson—met after a long time, and after their greetings were over, Thompson said:

"By the way, Johnson, you are looking very thin. Where are those big calves you used to be so proud of?"

"Oh," said Johnson, "one cold night I put some nay in the bottom of my shoes to keep my feet warm and they went down and ate the hay and never returned!"

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action; thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

THE SECRET OF A SUCCESSFUL HOME-LIFE is, in a large degree, the ability of a woman to keep pace with her husband—to be able to climb with him, as it were! But, true, in order to fit herself for this progress — she must have the time to devote to it! This, then is one of the greatest needs of our day—labor saving devices and the myriad little conveniences that will mean the emancipation of woman!

Martha Alicia

Here, in these columns, I'm bringing you word of the newest and best that I find in the shops of Glendale—little aids and helps for the housewife to quickly finish her housework, or to beautify her home, and hints that will, if heeded, help to heighten her own charm! Come, with me, my dear, that I may point the way to a more comfortable home-life. For is it not true, that these merchants of Glendale are endeavoring to give you the best—to bring within your reach all of the things that will spell convenience, comfort and pleasure for you! Then, adopt, as your shopping slogan—

BUY IT IN GLENDALE—and you're always certain to be satisfied!

EVERY WOMAN WOULD LOVE to have a stunning new bead bag, such as one sees everywhere now! And how simple it is—if you just join the classes held every Tuesday and Friday from 10 to 12 and from 2 to 4 at the ART NEEDLE SHOP, 209 E. Broadway. There they teach the making of these pretty bead bags, as well as beautiful lamp shades, and all the fancy and plain stitches in knitting and crocheting. It is a most fascinating way to spend an afternoon.

RICH IN BEAUTY and rare colorings are the exquisite pictures that are being shown at BOTT'S BOOK STORE, 113 South Brand boulevard, this week. There are the marvelous Parish pictures, with their gorgeous blues and greens and infinite perfection of design and form—as well as lovely mission scenes and our own most beautiful mountains—thence to the ocean in its multitudinous moods—now gray and angry, and again blue and calm! Indeed it is a rarely beautiful collection that Mrs. Bott is offering—and at extraordinarily low prices. The works are both framed and unframed—so you may surely be suited in all details!

"HOW MUCH IS IT?" is the question whose answer, all too often, guides the purchase of foodstuffs for the family table—bread in particular! You know, my dear, that there is such a difference in bread that one cannot be influenced by price or quantity in her selection of a wholesome article of diet for the family. Quality is the one and only consideration you must have! Now, for instance, Fancy Bakery Bread—baked fresh every day at the FANCY BAKERY, 142 N. Brand Blvd.—is, I think even more wholesome than the usual "home-made bread"—for it possesses all the purity and nutriment characteristic of bread baked at home—with careful consideration for the exact proportions of ingredients in regard to healthfullness! Mr. Walsma's bread is known far and wide as being absolutely pure and nourishing and unusually healthful! Only the best of ingredients are used in the mixture, the finest of Dakota flour, pure crisco, and Glendale Creamery sweet milk—then the whole is baked under the latest approved Sanitady conditions! Once you've eaten Fancy Bakery Bread you'll appreciate the difference between it and the cheaper loaves put out at cut prices! It pays to buy the best—rather than sacrifice health at the saving of a few pennies a loaf!

Many of the new hats show but little trimming, a gracefully and becomingly draped veil being all that is required.

In the smart woman's wardrobe the lingerie frock will hold an important part, both for morning and for afternoon. A charming creation is cleverly fashioned of rose color and daintily trimmed with rows of narrow Valenciennes lace and a broad ribbon sash of satin.

WILL YOU BELIEVE that it's already time for the pretty summery furniture coverings? Yes, indeed, for spring-time is always slip-cover time! And you will be more than pleased with the results if you'll just send for the GLENDALE CARPET AND MATTRESS WORKS, of 1411 South San Fernando road. They do excellent upholstering and remodeling of furniture—at prices that are well within your reach! If you've an old chair you wish redesigned and "modernized" just call Glendale 1923—and the Glendale Carpet and Mattress Works will do the rest! But this much I'll guarantee—after they have finished, you will never dream it was made over!

Blue dotted veil is very becoming to the gray-haired, blue-eyed woman.

IF MILADY DID BUT REALIZE that her success in the business world, as well as all social triumphs depend upon the preservation of her youth—entirely! Make it a point to drop in at the BROADWAY BEAUTY PARLOR—214 E. Broadway at least once a week, for a shampoo and round curl, a manicure and a massage—and, my dear, you've no idea of the wonders they'll work! Why, inside of a few weeks, you'll be able to see the years dropping away—for in youthfulness lies woman's greatest charm! But, in this as in other accomplishments—it is all simply a matter of technique—and it behooves you to make sure that your work is done by experts—by one such as Mrs. Billig, who thoroughly understands every branch of her business!

Palm Beach has taken the knitted garments up wholeheartedly this year, using the knitted sport suits for morning wear, the one-piece dress with the short cape for afternoon wear, and the knitted bathing suit. They are favoring white and corn colors in this knitted material.

THE VERY SPICINESS of oriental sauces is irresistible to our occidental palates! That's why I know you'll be overjoyed to know of my discovery at the JAPAN ART AND TEA COMPANY of 135 South Brand boulevard this morning! They have received a shipment of the Best Shoyu—a genuine imported Oriental sauce used in making Chop Suey! Imagine it—you can now add to your list of refreshing dainties—Chop Suey—for with the real Japanese Dry noodles which they sell—it's no trick at all! Chop Suey, you see, means "mixture"—and so with the noodles and Shoyu—and a little minced meat and egg added—you've a dish that will delight the most pampered appetite! Shoyu, at the Japan Art and Tea Co. is only 40c the bottle—and it's delicious with steak, or on raw oysters, too!

One of the newest materials for spring gowns is Swiss chamoisette. This material has proven so satisfactory in gloves and when made on straight tailored lines with a narrow belt is very charming. It suggests duvetyne and is soft and clinging and easily washed. It comes in taupe, tan, leather brown and gray.

A DELIGHTFULLY REFRESHing and invigorating drink, that is healthful as well, you'll find the famous White Rose Spring Water from the INDEPENDENT ICE CO., of 106 East California avenue. Phone Glen. 217 and order a battle today!

EAGLE ROCK ACTIVITIES

EAGLE ROCK IS BOOMING LIKE MINING TOWN

Dirt Flys Under Steam-shovel Operations on Construction

Eagle Rock is taking on an air of prosperity and building activity that resembles one of the big mining camps.

Dirt is giving way to the grab of the steam shovel, and the patter of hammers can be heard on every hand. Many new business blocks are under construction, and lots are being leveled on the main streets of the little city for more brick structures. And it is a fact that the buildings are being filled as soon as they are completed. A new theatre, a music store, a shoe store, another hardware store, and numerous smaller lines are opening up for business in the little burg, which a short time ago was as quiet as a country churchyard. The residential part of the city is also going ahead, and a careful estimate places the number of new homes under construction at more than 200, with new one being started every day.

Dahlia Heights, which a few weeks ago was nothing more than an olive grove, is now decked in gala attire, and banners float from every corner, big sings hold out the information, "sold," and teams are rapidly filling in the low spots so that builders may erect their abiding places on this most lovely spot. This big tract is not entirely sold out, but H. E. Barnum, the selling agent, says it will not be long before every lot will be sold, which includes the business frontage on Colorado.

Few people can realize the rapid growth being made by Eagle Rock just now, and merchants report business booming and collections very good.

OPENS AN OFFICE

Messrs. White and Clark, two live wire realty men, are among the large number of agents to open for business in Eagle Rock. They hail from Gary, Ind., where they watched the famous city grow from 500 to 55,000 population.

ANOTHER CANDY KITCHEN

Mrs. White of Kenilworth avenue will open a Spanish candy kitchen in the new theatre building as soon as it is completed. Mrs. White is an expert in the candy business and promises her patrons the best that can be had in that line.

NEARLY COMPLETED

The two store buildings on South Laurel, being built by the J. B. Brown company, are nearly completed, and it is said that already they have been rented. A shoe shop and store store will occupy one of the rooms.

The happier some men are the more money they possess.

HARDWARE STORE TO EXPAND ITS QUARTERS

Pressure of Business Requires Carrying Line of Furniture

The old, established Eagle Rock Hardware store, of which C. I. Ritchey and his son-in-law, C. L. Suits, are the proprietors, will soon be greatly enlarged, with the intention of carrying a full line of furniture and also of securing more space for the stock of hardware. The building will be extended back 40 feet and will be provided with a basement and a balcony. Between 5000 and 6000 square feet of space will be added. Leland McKelvey, associated years ago with the store, latterly acting as buyer for the Eastern Outfitting company, is now connected with this company and will take charge of the furniture department.

WEEKLY MEETINGS AT EAGLE ROCK

On Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian church, the subject of Christian Internationalism will be continued by the study of "Light in the Dark Continent." The conflict of white and black races, the debt and duty to Africa, etc., will be discussed.

Rev. E. Morgan Isaac will lecture at 7:45 in the Congregational church on "Dreams as a Factor in Psycho-Analysis." Leading physicians of the world are now including this subject in their study of nervous ailments and relying much less than formerly on medicines.

There will be a prayer meeting at 8 o'clock in the Methodist church.

The usual Wednesday evening Christian Science experience meeting will be held in the women's club house at 8 o'clock.

Invitations are out for a luncheon to be given on Thursday at 12:30 in the Congregational church by the missionary society of the church. There will be toasts and a program following. A large attendance is hoped for; all interested women welcome. No fixed charge but a voluntary offering.

The Women's Twentieth Century club will give another of its popular card parties Thursday evening of this week in the club house parlors. Bridge and five hundred will be played. The charge of 30 cents covers score cards, war tax and refreshments. The proceeds go into the philanthropic fund. It is not necessary to be a member of the club to enjoy these social evenings; newcomers to the valley are especially invited to come and get acquainted.

All the schools in Eagle Rock will be closed on Wednesday of this week to permit the teachers to visit schools in other towns.

The Christian Science society of Eagle Rock has engaged Miss Helen Wood of Hollywood as soloist at the Sunday meetings. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Wood, who two years ago bought the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin C. Hamer on Eddy avenue.

Eagle Rock's oldest expressman, James Robinson, who has a host of friends, has been laid up for two weeks as the result of an accident when he was moving a piano out of his truck. It slipped and in falling hit his head, cutting a deep gash over one eye; it also injured his back and one leg. Fortunately no bones were broken. He will not be able to resume his business for some time.

Mrs. W. B. Scholfield of 203 North Hartwick avenue has been in the Glendale Research hospital for a fortnight past and is convalescing from an operation. She has been active in conducting the real estate office of Charles B. Guthrie at 732 East Colorado boulevard. Her father is taking her place.

EAGLE ROCK MEN MEET

Presbyterians Gather to Hear Address of Pres. Bird of Occidental

The meeting of the brotherhood of the Eagle Rock Presbyterian church at the church Tuesday evening brought together about 100 members, who were addressed by Dr. Bird of Occidental college. J. C. Shedd, the class leader, was given quite an ovation, and Dr. Bees sang, to the tune of "Maryland, My Maryland," the following poem, written by Rev. W. W. Curtis:

"Eagle Rock"

The kingly bird has left his mark,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
There it abides in light and dark,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
No storm will sweep thy form away,
No power can bring thee to decay,
Thy solid base will stand alway,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock.

The mountains guard thee through the night,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
They greet thee in the morning light,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
The noonday sun shines forth with power,
Bears greeting from each nook and flower,
And gives thee thy most glorious hour,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock.

On hillside and in lovely vale,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
A city stands which ne'er can fail,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
As with the eagle's piercing sight
We view the future with delight,
With wings outstretched we make our flight,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock.

In future days what will thou see,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
How splendid will thy vision be,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
A city stretching far and wide,
In which may God be glorified,
And let no evil e'er betide
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock.

Let church and school their good bestow,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
In greatness Occidental grow,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock;
Let righteous banners be unfurled
And evil from its seat be hurled,
Good tidings sent to all the world,
Eagle Rock, my Eagle Rock.

Little Ralph—Why don't you kill that old hen, Mr. Brown?

Mr. Brown—What old hen do you mean, my boy?

Little Ralph—The one that pecks you. I heard mamma say you had been henpecked ever since you got married.

Don't judge a woman's complexion by the package it comes in.

Bruce from New York City representing the board of erection of new churches, and Dr. Walter Wadsworth, superintendent of Home Missions Presbytery, were present at the services of the Community Church Sunday and expressed themselves as well pleased with the location of the proposed new church.

Miss A. Wales of Montrose avenue, left Tuesday for Honolulu and the South Sea Islands. Miss Wales expects to be away six months.

A reception and supper was enjoyed by members of the Brotherhood of the Community church last Thursday evening. The hosts were Richard Steine, D. Westerbee and Willis Shire. N. Stoner and E. Stoner were added as new members.

REV. ISAAC READS FROM LECTURE AT EAGLE ROCK

"Millions Now Living Shall Never Die," was the caption of a printed lecture from which Rev. E. Morgan Isaac read extracts at the Sunday evening meeting in the Congregational church. The author of the lecture has traveled through this and other states expounding the views that formed the theme of the pastor's address. Interest in the subject was so great that nearly every seat in the church was filled.

"The people of the world have been waiting for 1800 years for everlasting life," he read, "as proved from the beginning to the end of the Bible. The time is now near at hand. Any minister who does not accept this fact puts himself into the bad class of ministers." Clearly the everlasting life referred to here was a physical life.

"God is not physical," declared the pastor, "and eternal life was never meant to apply to earth. If it were, where are the dear ones gone who have passed away from us? One can prove anything from the Bible by selecting only portions of it. The 24th chapter of Matthew, which is used as a basis for the exponents of a second coming of Christ, judgment, and the abolishment of death for the elect, in the near future, is the prediction of the destruction of Jerusalem, foreseen by Matthew and later verified. Science, from the creation of man down to the present time, does not teach as this lecture does, that the flood ended the epoch of the first world, a second regime began with Jacob and ended in 1878, when a Gentile age began, and by some upheaval the world is soon going back to Jewish management, in a new epoch.

"We have our Isaians, our Tennysons, Shakespeares, and other great lights in the history of the world's progress. Are we to believe that God is going to destroy all these peoples, and that after all the improvements, inventions and enlightenment of advancing years they are to be wiped out? No, God will never interfere! The man who is going to rise to the highest is the man who tries the hardest to win. We were put here to work out our own problems. It is the only scientific way. God loves all races, is no respecter of time. He thinks in terms of eternity and acts according to unvarying law. When we stop to think scientifically, we realize that God is everywhere and that He never stoops to scheme nor to destroy. Civilization will go on if it wants to go on, or stop if it wants to stop. There is no life that is not eternal. God's great heart yearns for us to rise higher. He never frowns, never hates. Let us see to it that our hearts are warm with a feeling of 'the Infinite Presence.'"

It isn't safe to bet on anything—especially a sure thing.

BOY SCOUTS TAKE EAGLE ROCK WITH GLENDALE'S MAYOR

The auditorium of the Central school building was nearly filled Monday evening on the occasion of the Boy Scout entertainment. Emil Swanson, chairman of the program committee, presided, and first introduced Spencer Robinson, mayor of Glendale, and his companion, Harry Girard, who form a wonderful singing team. Interspersing their songs with a running fire of quip and jest directed against each other, they delighted the audience with their solos and duets. Both possess voices of remarkable power combined with beauty of tone.

Under the auspices of the American Legion post, little Miss Nancy Grant showed suppleness and grace in a dance, wearing a skirt of small American flags and a star on her breast. Eagle Rock troop No. 1 of Boy Scouts, directed by Assistant Scoutmaster Fred Scho Assistant Scoutmaster Fred Schnoor, filed on the stage and individually recited the 12 Scout laws, of obedience, courtesy, helpfulness, courage, etc.

Chas. B. Guthrie, of Glendale, first vice-president of the Verdugo Hills council, stated that it comprised, Eagle Rock, Glendale, Burbank, La Crescenta, Montrose and Sunland. He told how he first became interested in Scout work and said nothing else had so inspired him with enthusiasm and stayed by him. The organization was started for a noble purpose, tiding over the crucial period between boyhood and manhood, making the boys self-reliant and helpful to others. "What are we going to do for the citizenship of tomorrow?" he asked. "This is not a matter of politics or of religion. Our hope is in the boys. Their Scout work, in tabloid form, makes for manhood." During his speech the troop went through one of their skits on the stage that not only showed their enjoyment of the practice but gave pleasure to the spectators.

A newcomer to Eagle Rock, Mr. Walters, was called upon to make a plea for pledges toward the expense of the troop for the coming year and talked so earnestly and convincingly that $300 toward the requisite $500 was received. The troop acknowledged each pledge with yells as it was announced.

As many representative citizens were not present, the full amount assigned to Eagle Rock will undoubtedly be secured.

Mrs. Elgie Lowery Fischer of Pasadena, director of the Eagle Rock Community Players, interpreted several negro character sketches and read to the boys Rudyard Kipling's advice to "My Son."

The final number was the recitation of General Horace Porter's "Oration to the Flag," by Richard Arbogast, a boy about 12 years of age, who already shows great oratorical ability and fearlessness in facing an audience. He represented the Women's Twentieth Century club. Although through the illness of the tenor singer, G. P. Willey, who was stricken with influenza Monday afternoon, and for other reasons, some of the advertised features for the evening could not be given, the people present were well pleased with the entertainment and Eagle Rock will not be found lacking in the Boy Scout movement.

Don't say whole wheat— SAY VITIMIN

COMRADES AND FELLOW CITIZENS:

Are you sincerely anxious to be part of a really great service?

Do you honestly want to do a tremendous thing for God and home and country?

Would it make you very happy to reach thousands of people every day in an eloquent plea for the constitution and the flag?

You know the great issue in California and in the United States is:

Patriotism versus Treason.

Loyalty versus Anarchy.

The Constitution versus Whisky and Beer.

It would be an insult to ask you which side you are on. For of course you are for Patriotism and Loyalty, the Constitution and the Flag.

And you know a majority of the voters of this state and nation would be opposed to treason and lawlessness if only they could be made to see the truth.

But you say they won't listen to speakers, they won't read literature, they do not seem to want to stop and think.

What agency can we use to attract their attention and arrest their thought and arouse them to action?

Well, listen, friends. In the face of the above situation we know there is one great agency that will reach them. And facts and figures prove it is the most powerful and attractive drawing force in the world. Nobody doubts that. It is the most tremendous power in our contemporary life.

NAMELY, THE MOTION PICTURE

Millions of people that cannot be reached by any other means flock to see motion pictures. Eighty-five per cent of all our knowledge comes through the eye, and what we learn through the eye we remember.

People say "in one ear and out the other," but whoever heard anybody say "in one eye and out the other?"

Bone Dry Federation has decided with your help to capture and use this great force in an appeal to teach reverence for the Constitution and respect for law. We have secured the rights to the greatest story of the day dealing with this vital question—eloquent in its message, dramatic in its appeal, gripping in its thrilling portrayal of present day conditions. Preachers, laymen, statesmen, lawyers, men and women, expert motion picture people unanimously declare it to be the message needed for this campaign. Thousands of churches, community centers, school houses and motion picture houses are waiting for it. The estimated cost of making this great picture is

TWENTY-FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS

We want you to enjoy the privilege of being part of this great work.

We know you will be happy in accepting this opportunity of doing the thing you have wanted to help do so long. Namely, carry a great message of loyalty to hundreds of thousands of people.

TWELVE THOUSAND DOLLARS have been subscribed, but on the condition that we raise TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS by popular subscription by April 1st, 1922.

Hence this earnest appeal to you.

We want you to be one of the five hundred people to send in their check for TEN DOLLARS for this great work at once. We know that ten dollars is not very much for one person to give, but if we can only get five hundred of them we can surely make this TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS by April 1st, because there are some who will give one hundred dollars and some fifty dollars, and many, many hundreds who will give five dollars each.

Send in your check and become part of this great work, and tell your friends about it, please, because this is imperative. All monies given for this special work will be deposited in a special fund. Not one dollar of it will be used until the whole TEN THOUSAND is raised.

POSTAL EMPLOYES INSTALL OFFICERS

Banquet and Unusual Program Follows Official Business

Installation of the Glendale branch No. 841, National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, was held last evening in the Harrower hall at 920 East Broadway, with a large attendance of friends and fellow clerks from Los Angeles.

Past President Jas. G. Fox of Los Angeles branch No. 64 came to Glendale to act as the installing officer. The officers installed were Charles F. Newton, president; Henry G. Weger, vice-president; John Boettner, recording secretary; Norman Ashcroft, treasurer, and the trustees are Mrs. Hattie B. Ellis and Miss Lucille Crowell, with Lance C. Martin, sergeant-at-arms.

The installation was followed by a musical program consisting of some very enjoyable numbers rendered by the postoffice orchestra, with a vocal solo by Postmaster Jackson.

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson very ably addressed the employes, saying many encouraging things. Assistant Postmaster Hallett and W. W. Hunt, president of the Letter Carriers' association, also gave enjoyable talks. M r. Eckelbery of Los Angeles complimented the Glendale local on being 100 per cent strong, as more efficient work can be done when all are members of the same association. Our Glendale branch will be represented by a full delegation at the state convention in Long Beach, May 30, at which time application will be made for membership in the state association.

Capt. Jackson and all the members of local No. 841 wish to publicly thank Dr. H. R. Harrower, who so kindly donated the use of his beautiful auditorium for the evening, showing every kindness and courtesy throughout the evening.

At the conclusion of the program the lady members of the association served refreshments, which were greatly enjoyed.

of which you speak. This congestion is not so apparent on a week day as it is on Sundays, but it reached a point where the chief of police and other city officials, also the Automobile Club of Southern California, demanded that something be done speedily to relieve the situation at that point. I went down with these officials and they were unanimous in the decision that Gardena avenue crossing should be used in the manner that it is now being used and so far they seem to think that results have been satisfactory. I realize that proper warning signals should be installed.

"I wish to thank you for your communication and assure you that I am at all times glad to have suggestions made in the spirit that yours is made, that is, constructively."

Frank McGillis of 1003 East Lomita avenue, who has been seriously ill for the past week, is much better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Budway of Huntington Park entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith and family of 312 North Kenwood street.

The first thing a man does after making a fool of himself is to try to explain how it happened.

NEW PARISH HOUSE FOUNDATION LAID

Trenches are being dug for the foundations of the new parish house of the Holy Family Catholic church on Elk avenue just west of the church. It is to cost $17,000 or thereabouts.

The original plans have been modified somewhat but not materially changed. It will be of two stories and match the church in architecture and exterior.

On the east side will be a cloister porch from which an arched French door will afford entrance to the hallway from which stairs will ascend to the second story, and from the rear end of this porch the garage will be entered. On the west side of this first floor will be the dining room and kitchen, screened porch, maid's room and bath. Above stairs will be a living room, guest room, and bath, a curate's bedroom and study, the pastor's bedroom, study and bath. A garden wall to match the exterior of the church will connect the parish house with the church. A basement will be provided in which the heating plant will be installed.

There are said to be certain offices in the United States where the work is done to the accompaniment of music, which changes from grave to gay, from lively to severe, in harmony with the duties and needs of the workers. A British telephone publication, commenting on this practice, says that it is nothing new, and that the British postoffice telephone workers have long been working to music, and keeping strict time, the favorite measure being the "Dead March."

TIME, THE TINKER

Time, you old tinker man,
Day and the Morrow,
Where you be, how you can,
Patching up sorrow.

I hear the cry of you
Endlessly spoken:—
"Whole toys and bright and new Made from the broken."

"Life all a bitter plan?
What—would you end it?
Here's Time the tinker man,
Come, let him mend it!"

Shrilly I hear you call;
"Good dreams for bad ones;"
And, then, the echoes fall:
"Glad hearts for sad ones."

"Bright hopes for faded ones,
Warm hearts for cold ones;
Fresh steeds for jaded ones,
New joys for old ones."

Time you old Tinker man,
Day and the Morrow,
Where you are, how you can,
Patching up Sorrow.

CALDWELL LEARNED ABOUT GLENDALE

"When we located in Glendale we did not know how active the real estate business in this city actually was," said Mr. Caldwell of the firm of Caldwell & Elliott, corner Colorado and Brand, this morning. "We find that there is something doing in this business all the time and are pleased to find that we are doing our share of this business. We do a general real estate business, with loan and insurance department."

This sounds pretty well coming from a firm that has been in Glendale but a few weeks. Ever since opening here this company has been on its toes and has been doing some real business. The firm consists of W. Elliott and D. Caldwell. Mr. Caldwell has had eight years' experience in the real estate and building lines, while for twelve years Mr. Elliott has been in the retail business in Vancouver, Wash. These men came to Southern California to pass the winter. While making their rounds they were so taken with this city that they decided to locate here permanently.

TUJUNGA BUSINESS ASSOCIATION AT A LUNCHEON

Talk on Motor Transportation Given Members on Tuesday Noon

TUJUNGA, March 15.—About 30 members of the Verdugo Hills Association attended the luncheon held in the basement of the church Tuesday noon. F. L. Plant, secretary of the California Motor Bus Transportation association was the principal speaker and gave an exceedingly interesting talk on motor travel and transportation. He said that the large use of motor transportation in California was in response to popular demand, and that in most cases it was giving better service than the railroads. He also refuted the statement made that it is the swift moving busses and trucks that are ruining the highway system in some localities. Quoting statistics which have been carefully compiled, he showed that a slow moving vehicle wears out the pavement more quickly than a fast moving one.

Tujunga is at the present time dependent on motor vehicles for transportation and this fact made Mr. Plant's talk of vital interest to members of the association. F. M. Ashby, president of the association, presided.

Members of the Woman's club, who served the luncheon, had prepared for more than the number present and a supper was served at the church in the evening for those unable to attend the luncheon.

Thursday night the first performance of the Chamber of Commerce show, "An Evenin' Wid the Irish," will be given. Many of the old-time favorites will be seen in entirely new acts. New stars will also present their talents for the approval of the audience. Tickets which were placed on sale at the first of the week have been selling fast, and a capacity house is expected both Thursday and Friday nights. Admission is 25 cents.

The Parent-Teacher association is holding a cup and saucer shower at its regular meeting today at the school house. Every member was requested to bring a cup and saucer for the benefit of the society.

Miss Helen Kelly will leave the last of this month for her home in Chicago. She has been a guest of her cousin, Miss Alice Kelly who will accompany her to San Francisco.

There is still time to file petitions for the office of school trustee. The election is to be held on March 31, and so far no petitions have been returned.

On account of other meetings in the church and club house the regular Tuesday meeting of the T. N. T. club was called off.

"HAIL THE WOMAN" PROVES BIG HIT

"I am Judas—for I have betrayed those who loved me best."

This agonized confession is made to his Puritan congregation by the newly ordained minister, ready to depart as a missionary to far-off lands.

The scene is one of the many enthralling situations in "Hail the Woman," Thomas H. Ince's unrivaled dramatic achievement at the T. D. & L. theatre today.

The story is an overpowering resex of American life by C. Gardner Sullivan, foremost motion picture dramatist.

Miss Jean Galloway, secretary in the office of the comptroller of the University of Southern California, was a Sunday dinner guest of Miss Isabel Tisdale, 336 West Acacia avenue.

ARBITRATION NOTE IN REALTY BOARD ORGANIZATION

Strong Committee Considers All Disputes Between Members

There is one point about the operation of the Glendale Realty board that is not known to the average person, this being that there is an arbitration committee within this board which takes up and decides disputes between members and outside realty men, as well as between members themselves. This arbitration committee operates in substantially the following manner:

"Any complaint shall be made in writing and filed with the secretary of the organization, who shall in turn refer it to the chairman of the arbitration committee and send a copy thereof to the member complained of. It shall contain a brief and a clear statement of the grievance and be signed by the complainant.

"The defendant party shall, within three days, notify the secretary in writing if he consents to arbitration of the complaint. Otherwise, he shall be deemed to have refused and declined such arbitration, and the fact of his failure shall be by the secretary communicated to the arbitration committee and to the complaining member. If he does so consent, such consent shall be deemed an agreement on his part to abide by the findings of the committee.

"If arbitration is agreed upon by the contending parties, the arbitration committee shall set time and place for the hearing, giving both parties at least one week's notice in writing of such time and place. Said time of hearing, however, may be shortened, if both parties appear at an earlier date and consent to immediate hearing. Either party may produce witnesses or submit documents or other evidence, and the arbitration committee shall have the power to require such additional evidence as it may deem necessary. All deliberations of the arbitration committee, after hearing of evidence, shall be private. Unless the arbitration committee is unanimous in its findings and announces its judgment, all the facts ascertained shall be promptly certified to the governing committee, which shall thereupon pass upon the findings and announce its judgment, which shall be final.

"An agreement of two-thirds of the members present shall be required to render a decision. No member of the arbitration committee shall sit in any hearing if he, or any member of his firm, or a corporation of which he is an officer or director, is interested in the outcome thereof. Either party to be arbitration may object to any member or members of the arbitration committee, and upon such objection being made, the president of the board shall thereupon substitute another and disinterested member to sit in his place. If there is no such objection, a quorum of the committee may act.

"Unanimous decision of the arbitration committee, if one is reached, shall be certified by the secretary within three days after the conclusion of the hearing.

"Where a unanimous decision of the arbitration committee has awarded a sum of $500 or more, a written appeal by either party may be filed with the secretary within three days after the issuing of the certificates of the findings. Such appeal must be accompanied by a deposit of $50 or greater sum, as may be necessary to cover the costs of hearing the appeal. The case may then be re-tried by the governing committee under such rules and conditions as it may impose.

"At least one week's notice, however, shall be given to the contending parties of the time and place of the rehearing. A decision of the governing committee shall be final and shall be certified to the interested parties by the secretary within three days after decision is reached. Settlement of awards under arbitration and of such costs and penalties as result therefrom shall be made through the secretary.

"It is the duty of every member of this organization to appear as a witness before the arbitrating and governing committees when notified to do so, and upon being sworn by the chairman, to truly testify so far as his knowledge extends as to the matters in hearing before the committee. A failure so to attend and testify shall be a ground for discipline as set forth in the suspensions and expulsions from membership department of the organization."

It is this and other laws that are part of the constitution of the Glendale Realty board that make it one of the most valuable organizations in this city today, both for the realty operator and his client. The chief aim and purpose of this law is to see that the agent acts squarely in every deal, that he plays fair with his brother agent where there is a split in the commission, and that in every case he acts honestly with the buyer and the seller. This law, backed by a realty organization as strong as the Glendale Realty board, should mean much to the owners of property in Glendale and to those who come here with the aim of purchasing real estate.

CHEAP CATTLE IN S. A.

BUENOS AIRES, March 15.—Cattle breeders in the Chubut district have just disposed of nearly half-a-million head of "novillos," a native class of 3-year-old steers, after holding them on a dead market for many months. The average price ran to ten Argentine paper pesos per head (worth at present about $3.50 U. S. currency).

SHRINER'S CLUB TO HOLD MEETING

GIRLS' BASEBALL TEAMS ORGANIZING

Dorothy Cotton, athletic secretary for girls in the student body organization at Glendale High, is busily occupied with the preparation of a schedule for baseball games to be played by a girls' team with other schools, beginning the last of April or the first of May. A tournament of games which are being played after school hours is now on to pick players for a girls' tennis team to represent the school in the tennis league in which Glendale will be a competitor. No league games have yet been announced.

There is no league for girls' baseball teams so whatever games are played will simply be friendly contests with other schools.

LONDON, March 15.—By the death of a baronet the title changes for the second time since its creation in 1918—believed to be a record. The first baronet, Sir Thomas Watson, was killed by a motor-car last May. His son, Sir Wilfred, has just died of "flu." The title passes to a brother, Geoffrey.
